

Detox Green Juice

The classic morning detox: light, refreshing and full of chlorophyll to give your body a boost.

5 min

PREP

1 large glass

MAKES

~90

BASE CAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 kale leaf (or 1 handful of spinach)
- 1 green apple, in pieces
- juice of ½ lemon
- 1 small piece of ginger
- ¾ cup cold water
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Wash the kale and apple well. Remove the thick stem from the kale.
- 2 Put everything in the blender with the cold water and blend on high for 1 minute, until fully liquid.
- 3 If you prefer it without bits, strain through a sieve. Serve right away, with ice.

WHY IT HELPS YOU SLIM DOWN

Green leaves have lots of fiber and water for very few calories, helping reduce bloating and giving fullness. Drinking it before breakfast hydrates and prepares the body for the day. With no sugar, it is one of the lightest drinks there is.

Approximate values, based on a standard nutrition table — a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; if you move more, you burn more and can adjust upward.

Cucumber, Lemon and Mint Juice

Pure freshness in a glass — cucumber refreshes, lemon wakes you up and mint perfumes. Hydration that helps you debloat.

BASE CAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 2 pineapple slices, in pieces
- 5 mint leaves
- 1 small piece of ginger
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup cold water
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Cut the pineapple into pieces, removing the skin and the hard core in the center.
- 2 Blend the pineapple, the mint, the ginger and the water for 1 minute, until smooth.
- 3 Strain if you like and serve well chilled, with ice and a mint leaf.

WHY IT HELPS YOU SLIM DOWN

Pineapple has enzymes that help digestion and is rich in water and vitamin C. Ginger slightly speeds up the metabolism and fights inflammation. It is a naturally sweet juice, so it needs no sugar — the fruit already does that job.

Approximate values, based on a standard nutrition table — a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; if you move more, you burn more and can adjust upward.

Beet, Carrot and Orange Juice

Vibrant red and full of energy — beet with orange is a juice that gives you a lift and colors your day.

5 min

PREP

1 large glass

MAKES

~120

BASE CAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- ½ small raw beet, in pieces
- 1 carrot, in pieces
- juice of 2 oranges
- ⅓ cup water
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Peel the beet and the carrot and cut into small pieces.
- 2 Squeeze the oranges. Blend the beet, the carrot, the orange juice and the water for 2 minutes, until fully liquid.
- 3 Strain through a sieve (beet and carrot leave fibers) and serve chilled.

Watermelon Juice with Lemon

Hydration in the form of juice: watermelon is almost all water, just sweet enough and refreshing like few others.

5 min

PREP

1 large glass

MAKES

~80

BASE CAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 2 large watermelon slices, no rind
- juice of ½ lemon
- 5 mint leaves (optional)
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Cut the watermelon into cubes and remove the larger seeds.
- 2 Blend the watermelon with the lemon juice (and the mint, if you like) for 30 seconds — watermelon releases lots of water, so you barely need to add liquid.
- 3 Serve immediately, well chilled, with ice.

PREP

1 pitcher
MAKES

~10
BASE CAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 4 cups (1 quart) water
- ½ cucumber, thinly sliced
- ½ lemon, sliced
- 6 mint leaves
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Wash the cucumber, the lemon and the mint.
- 2 In a pitcher, put the water, the cucumber and lemon slices and the mint leaves.
- 3 Refrigerate for at least 1 hour, for the water to take on the flavor. Serve chilled through the day; you can top it up with more water as you drink.

Free drink. With no sugar, it is close to zero calories — you can sip it freely through the day without measuring a portion. It is a great swap for soda and boxed juice, helping you stay hydrated and lose weight.

WHY IT HELPS YOU SLIM DOWN

Swapping soda and sugary juices for flavored water is one of the habits that most help with weight loss. Cucumber, lemon and mint add flavor with no calories, making water tastier and helping you stay hydrated all day.

Approximate values, based on a standard nutrition table — a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; if you move more, you burn more and can adjust upward.

Ginger and Lemon Detox Water

A warm or cold water with a spicy touch that wakes up the metabolism first thing.

5 min

PREP

1 glass

MAKES

BASE CAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 glass of water (warm or cold)
- juice of ½ lemon
- a few thin ginger slices
- ice to taste (if cold)

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Cut the ginger into very thin slices.
- 2 Mix the water, the lemon juice and the ginger in a glass.
- 3 Let it rest 5 minutes for the ginger to release its flavor. Drink in the morning, on an empty stomach, warm or cold.

Free drink. With no sugar, it is close to zero calories — you can sip it freely through the day without measuring a portion. It is a great swap for soda and boxed juice, helping you stay hydrated and lose weight.

WHY IT HELPS YOU SLIM DOWN

Drinking water with lemon and ginger on an empty stomach helps wake up the body and digestion. Ginger has a mild warming (metabolism-boosting) effect. With no sugar, it is a simple morning ritual that supports weight loss.

Approximate values, based on a standard nutrition table — a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; if you move more, you burn more and can adjust upward.

MAKES

~15
BASE CAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 4 cups (1 quart) water
- 1 handful of berries (strawberry, blueberry, raspberry)
- ½ lemon, sliced
- mint leaves
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Wash the berries and cut the strawberries in half.
- 2 In a pitcher, put the water, the berries, the lemon slices and the mint. Lightly crush the berries with a spoon to release the color and flavor.
- 3 Refrigerate for 1 to 2 hours and serve chilled.

Free drink. With no sugar, it is close to zero calories — you can sip it freely through the day without measuring a portion. It is a great swap for soda and boxed juice, helping you stay hydrated and lose weight.

WHY IT HELPS YOU SLIM DOWN

Berries add color, flavor and antioxidants to water for almost no calories. It is a pretty, tasty way to drink more water through the day, replacing sugary drinks and helping with hydration and weight loss.

Coconut Water with Lemon and Mint

The natural hydration of coconut water, boosted with lemon and mint — refreshing and full of minerals.

3 min

PREP

1 large glass

MAKES

~45

BASE CAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 large glass of coconut water
- juice of ½ lemon
- 5 mint leaves
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Mix the coconut water with the lemon juice in a glass.
- 2 Add the mint leaves and the ice and stir.
- 3 Serve well chilled, preferably natural (boxed coconut water often has added sugar — go for the natural kind).

Free drink. With no sugar, it is close to zero calories — you can sip it freely through the day without measuring a portion. It is a great swap for soda and boxed juice, helping you stay hydrated and lose weight.

WHY IT HELPS YOU SLIM DOWN

Coconut water replaces minerals and hydrates very well, with few calories when it is natural. With lemon and mint, it is even more refreshing. It is great after exercise or on hot days, instead of sugary sports drinks.

Approximate values, based on a standard nutrition table — a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; if you move more, you burn more and can adjust upward.

Green Tea with Lemon and Ginger

The number 1 ally for anyone wanting to lose weight: green tea speeds up the metabolism, and lemon and ginger give it an extra push.

8 min

PREP

1 cup

MAKES

~5

BASE CAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 cup of water
- 1 teaspoon green tea (or 1 tea bag)
- a few ginger slices
- juice of ½ lemon

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Boil the water and turn off the heat. Wait 1 minute (water that is too hot makes green tea bitter).
- 2 Add the green tea and the ginger slices, cover and let it steep for 3 minutes.
- 3 Strain, add the lemon juice and drink warm. You can also have it cold, through the day.

Free drink. With no sugar, it is close to zero calories — you can sip it freely through the day without measuring a portion. It is a great swap for soda and boxed juice, helping you stay hydrated and lose weight.

WHY IT HELPS YOU SLIM DOWN

Green tea is one of the most studied foods for weight loss: it has substances that help speed up the metabolism and burn fat. With ginger and lemon, the effect is reinforced. With no sugar, it is a free drink you can have every day.

Approximate values, based on a standard nutrition table — a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; if you move more, you burn more and can adjust upward.

BASE CAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 4 cups (1 quart) water
- 2 tablespoons dried hibiscus flowers (or 2 tea bags)
- lemon slices
- mint leaves
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Boil the water and turn off the heat. Add the hibiscus, cover and let it steep for 5 to 7 minutes.
- 2 Strain and let it cool. Refrigerate.
- 3 Serve well chilled, with lemon slices, mint and ice.

Free drink. With no sugar, it is close to zero calories — you can sip it freely through the day without measuring a portion. It is a great swap for soda and boxed juice, helping you stay hydrated and lose weight.

WHY IT HELPS YOU SLIM DOWN

Hibiscus tea is known for helping reduce fluid retention (bloating) and is rich in antioxidants. Iced and with no sugar, it is a refreshing, free drink, great to replace sodas and processed juices through the day.

Approximate values, based on a standard nutrition table — a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; if you move more, you burn more and can adjust upward.

Chamomile Tea with Cinnamon

Warm and comforting, the tea that calms you before bed — and a good night's sleep also helps you lose weight.

8 min

PREP

1 cup

MAKES

~5

BASE CAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 cup of water
- 1 tablespoon chamomile flowers (or 1 tea bag)
- 1 cinnamon stick (or 1 pinch ground)

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Boil the water and turn off the heat.
- 2 Add the chamomile and the cinnamon, cover and let it steep for 5 minutes.
- 3 Strain and drink warm, preferably at night, before bed.

Free drink. With no sugar, it is close to zero calories — you can sip it freely through the day without measuring a portion. It is a great swap for soda and boxed juice, helping you stay hydrated and lose weight.

WHY IT HELPS YOU SLIM DOWN

Chamomile calms you and helps you relax, improving sleep. Sleeping well is a factor many people forget in weight loss: poorly slept nights increase hunger and the sweet craving the next day. This tea is a nighttime ritual that supports your diet.

Approximate values, based on a standard nutrition table — a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; if you move more, you burn more and can adjust upward.

Ginger, Lemon and Cinnamon Infusion

A warming, fragrant infusion that heats the body and gives the metabolism a nudge.

10 min

PREP

1 large cup

MAKES

BASE CAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 large cup of water
- several ginger slices
- 1 cinnamon stick
- juice of ½ lemon

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 In a small pot, boil the water with the ginger slices and the cinnamon stick for 5 minutes, over low heat.
- 2 Turn off, cover and let it rest 3 more minutes.
- 3 Strain, add the lemon juice and drink warm.

Free drink. With no sugar, it is close to zero calories — you can sip it freely through the day without measuring a portion. It is a great swap for soda and boxed juice, helping you stay hydrated and lose weight.

WHY IT HELPS YOU SLIM DOWN

Ginger and cinnamon have a mild warming effect, meaning they help the body spend a bit more energy. It is a warm, comforting infusion, with no sugar, that suits cold days and gives that extra support to the metabolism.

Approximate values, based on a standard nutrition table — a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; if you move more, you burn more and can adjust upward.

Mint Tea with Lemon

Fresh and digestive, mint tea calms the stomach after meals — light and fragrant.

8 min

PREP
