

Green Detox Juice

The classic morning detox: light, refreshing and full of chlorophyll to give your body that push.

5 min

TIME

1 large glass

MAKES

~90

BASE KCAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 kale leaf (or 1 handful of spinach)
- 1 green apple in pieces
- juice of 1/2 lemon
- 1 small piece of ginger
- 3/4 cup cold water
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Wash the kale and the apple well. Take the thick stem off the kale.
- 2 Put everything in the blender with the cold water and blend at top speed for 1 minute, until it is fully liquid.
- 3 If you prefer it with no little bits, strain it through a sieve. Serve right away, with ice.

Beetroot, Carrot and Orange Juice

Bright red and full of energy — beetroot with orange is a juice that gives you a lift and colors your day.

5 min
TIME

1 large glass
MAKES

~120
BASE KCAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1/2 small raw beetroot in pieces
- 1 carrot in pieces
- juice of 2 oranges
- 1/2 cup water
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Peel the beetroot and the carrot and cut them into small pieces.
- 2 Squeeze the oranges. Blend the beetroot, the carrot, the orange juice and the water in the blender for 2 minutes, until it is fully liquid.
- 3 Strain it through a sieve (beetroot and carrot leave fibers) and serve cold.

Watermelon Juice with Lemon

Hydration in juice form: watermelon is almost all water, sweet in just the right measure and as refreshing as it gets.

5 min
TIME

1 large glass
MAKES

~80
BASE KCAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 2 large slices of watermelon with no rind
- juice of 1/2 lemon
- 5 mint leaves (optional)
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Cut the watermelon into cubes and take out the bigger seeds.
- 2 Blend the watermelon with the lemon juice (and the mint, if you like) in the blender for 30 seconds — watermelon releases a lot of water, so you barely need to add any liquid.
- 3 Serve immediately, very cold, with ice.

Detox Water with Cucumber, Lemon and Mint

The water that makes you want to drink: light, fragrant and refreshing, to keep you hydrated all day without getting bored.

5 min +
fridge
TIME

1 pitcher
MAKES

~10
BASE KCAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 4 cups of water
- 1/2 cucumber in thin rounds
- 1/2 lemon in rounds
- 6 mint leaves
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Wash the cucumber, the lemon and the mint.
- 2 In a pitcher, put the water, the cucumber and lemon rounds and the mint leaves.
- 3 Put it in the fridge for at least 1 hour, so the water takes in the flavor. Serve cold through the day; you can top it up with more water as you drink it.

Free drink. With no sugar it has almost no calories — you can drink it all day long, as much as you want, without measuring the amount. It is great for replacing soda and boxed juice, and it helps you drink more and lose weight.

WHY THIS HELPS YOU LOSE WEIGHT

Swapping soda and sugary juices for flavored water is one of the habits that helps most with losing weight. Cucumber, lemon and mint bring flavor with no calories, making water tastier and helping you stay hydrated all day.

Approximate values, calculated from a standard nutrition table — they are a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; anyone who moves more burns more and can adjust upward.

Detox Water with Ginger and Lemon

A warm or cold water with a spicy touch that wakes your metabolism up first thing in the morning.

5 min

TIME

1 glass

MAKES

BASE KCAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 glass of water (warm or cold)
- juice of 1/2 lemon
- a few thin slices of ginger
- ice to taste (if cold)

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Cut the ginger into very thin slices.
- 2 Mix the water, the lemon juice and the ginger in a glass.
- 3 Let it rest for 5 minutes so the ginger releases its flavor. Drink it in the morning, on an empty stomach, warm or cold.

Free drink. With no sugar it has almost no calories — you can drink it all day long, as much as you want, without measuring the amount. It is great for replacing soda and boxed juice, and it helps you drink more and lose weight.

WHY THIS HELPS YOU LOSE WEIGHT

Drinking water with lemon and ginger on an empty stomach helps to wake up your body and your digestion. Ginger has a slight thermogenic effect (it speeds up your metabolism a little). With no sugar, it is a simple morning ritual that supports weight loss.

Approximate values, calculated from a standard nutrition table — they are a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; anyone who moves more burns more and can adjust upward.

Detox Water with Berries

Pink and pretty in the pitcher, with little fruits floating — a flavored water that looks like a spa drink.

5 min +
fridge
TIME

1 pitcher
MAKES

~15
BASE KCAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 4 cups of water
- 1 handful of berries (strawberry, blueberry, raspberry)
- 1/2 lemon in rounds
- mint leaves
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Wash the berries and cut the strawberries in half.
- 2 In a pitcher, put the water, the fruit, the lemon rounds and the mint. Lightly crush the fruit with a spoon so it releases its color and flavor.
- 3 Put it in the fridge for 1 to 2 hours and serve cold.

Free drink. With no sugar it has almost no calories — you can drink it all day long, as much as you want, without measuring the amount. It is great for replacing soda and boxed juice, and it helps you drink more and lose weight.

WHY THIS HELPS YOU LOSE WEIGHT

Berries bring color, flavor and antioxidants to the water with almost no calories. It is a beautiful and tasty way to drink more water through the day, replacing sugary drinks and helping with hydration and weight loss.

Approximate values, calculated from a standard nutrition table — they are a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; anyone who moves more burns more and can adjust upward.

Coconut Water with Lemon and Mint

The natural hydration of coconut water, boosted with lemon and mint — refreshing and full of minerals.

3 min
TIME

1 large glass
MAKES

~45
BASE KCAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 large glass of coconut water
- juice of 1/2 lemon
- 5 mint leaves
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Mix the coconut water with the lemon juice in a glass.
- 2 Add the mint leaves and the ice and stir.
- 3 Serve very cold, ideally the natural kind (boxed coconut water usually has added sugar — go for the natural one).

Free drink. With no sugar it has almost no calories — you can drink it all day long, as much as you want, without measuring the amount. It is great for replacing soda and boxed juice, and it helps you drink more and lose weight.

WHY THIS HELPS YOU LOSE WEIGHT

Coconut water replaces minerals and hydrates very well, with few calories when it is natural. With lemon and mint, it is even more refreshing. It is great after exercise or on hot days, instead of sugary sports drinks.

Approximate values, calculated from a standard nutrition table — they are a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; anyone who moves more burns more and can adjust upward.

Green Tea with Lemon and Ginger

The number 1 ally for anyone losing weight: green tea speeds up your metabolism, and lemon and ginger give it an extra push.

8 min

TIME

1 cup

MAKES

~5

BASE KCAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 cup of water
- 1 tsp green tea (or 1 tea bag)
- a few slices of ginger
- juice of 1/2 lemon

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Boil the water and turn off the heat. Wait 1 minute (water that is too hot makes green tea bitter).
- 2 Add the green tea and the ginger slices, cover it and let it steep for 3 minutes.
- 3 Strain it, add the lemon juice and drink it warm. You can also drink it cold, through the day.

Free drink. With no sugar it has almost no calories — you can drink it all day long, as much as you want, without measuring the amount. It is great for replacing soda and boxed juice, and it helps you drink more and lose weight.

WHY THIS HELPS YOU LOSE WEIGHT

Green tea is one of the most studied foods for weight loss: it has substances that help speed up your metabolism and burn fat. With ginger and lemon, the effect is reinforced. With no sugar, it is a free drink you can have every day.

Approximate values, calculated from a standard nutrition table — they are a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; anyone who moves more burns more and can adjust upward.

Iced Hibiscus Tea

Ruby red and slightly tart, hibiscus is famous for helping to reduce bloating — delicious cold in the heat.

10 min +

TIME

1 pitcher
MAKES

~5
BASE KCAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 4 cups of water
- 2 tbsp dried hibiscus flowers (or 2 tea bags)
- lemon rounds
- mint leaves
- ice to taste

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Boil the water and turn it off. Add the hibiscus, cover it and let it steep for 5 to 7 minutes.
- 2 Strain it and let it cool. Put it in the fridge.
- 3 Serve very cold, with lemon rounds, mint and ice.

Free drink. With no sugar it has almost no calories — you can drink it all day long, as much as you want, without measuring the amount. It is great for replacing soda and boxed juice, and it helps you drink more and lose weight.

WHY THIS HELPS YOU LOSE WEIGHT

Hibiscus tea is known for helping to reduce water retention (bloating) and is rich in antioxidants. Cold and with no sugar, it is a refreshing and free drink, great for replacing sodas and processed juices through the day.

Approximate values, calculated from a standard nutrition table — they are a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; anyone who moves more burns more and can adjust upward.

Chamomile Tea with Cinnamon

Warm and comforting, the tea that calms you before bed — and a good night's sleep also helps you lose weight.

8 min

TIME

1 cup

MAKES

~5

BASE KCAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 cup of water
- 1 tbsp chamomile flowers (or 1 tea bag)
- 1 cinnamon stick (or 1 pinch of ground)

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Boil the water and turn off the heat.
- 2 Add the chamomile and the cinnamon, cover it and let it steep for 5 minutes.
- 3 Strain it and drink it warm, ideally at night, before bed.

Free drink. With no sugar it has almost no calories — you can drink it all day long, as much as you want, without measuring the amount. It is great for replacing soda and boxed juice, and it helps you drink more and lose weight.

WHY THIS HELPS YOU LOSE WEIGHT

Chamomile calms you and helps you relax, improving your sleep. Sleeping well is a factor many people forget in weight loss: bad nights increase hunger and the craving for sweets the next day. This tea is a nighttime ritual that supports your diet.

Approximate values, calculated from a standard nutrition table — they are a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; anyone who moves more burns more and can adjust upward.

Ginger, Lemon and Cinnamon Infusion

A thermogenic and fragrant infusion that warms your body and gives your metabolism that boost.

10 min
TIME

1 large cup
MAKES

~8
BASE KCAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 large cup of water
- several slices of ginger
- 1 cinnamon stick
- juice of 1/2 lemon

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 In a small pot, boil the water with the ginger slices and the cinnamon stick for 5 minutes, over low heat.
- 2 Turn it off, cover it and let it rest for another 3 minutes.
- 3 Strain it, add the lemon juice and drink it warm.

Free drink. With no sugar it has almost no calories — you can drink it all day long, as much as you want, without measuring the amount. It is great for replacing soda and boxed juice, and it helps you drink more and lose weight.

WHY THIS HELPS YOU LOSE WEIGHT

Ginger and cinnamon have a slight thermogenic effect, meaning they help your body spend a little more energy. It is a warm and comforting infusion, with no sugar, that works well on cold days and gives your metabolism that extra support.

Approximate values, calculated from a standard nutrition table — they are a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; anyone who moves more burns more and can adjust upward.

Mint Tea with Lemon

Fresh and good for digestion, mint tea calms your stomach after meals — light and fragrant.

8 min

TIME

1 cup

MAKES

~4

BASE KCAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 cup of water
- 1 handful of fresh mint leaves (or 1 tea bag)
- juice of 1/2 lemon

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Boil the water and turn off the heat.
- 2 Add the mint leaves, cover it and let it steep for 5 minutes.
- 3 Strain it, add the lemon juice and drink it warm or cold, ideally after meals.

Free drink. With no sugar it has almost no calories — you can drink it all day long, as much as you want, without measuring the amount. It is great for replacing soda and boxed juice, and it helps you drink more and lose weight.

WHY THIS HELPS YOU LOSE WEIGHT

Mint helps digestion and reduces that heavy stomach feeling after eating. A digestive tea with no sugar after meals is a simple habit that helps you avoid nibbling on sweets right afterwards.

Approximate values, calculated from a standard nutrition table — they are a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; anyone who moves more burns more and can adjust upward.

Fennel Tea

Gentle and naturally sweet, fennel calms your stomach and reduces gas — a comforting tea after eating.

8 min

TIME

1 cup

MAKES

~4

BASE KCAL

INGREDIENTS (BASE SERVING)

- 1 cup of water
- 1 tsp fennel seeds — or 1 tea bag

HOW TO MAKE IT

- 1 Lightly crush the fennel seeds (this releases more aroma).
- 2 Boil the water and turn it off. Add the fennel, cover it and let it steep for 5 minutes.
- 3 Strain it and drink it warm, ideally after meals or at night.

Free drink. With no sugar it has almost no calories — you can drink it all day long, as much as you want, without measuring the amount. It is great for replacing soda and boxed juice, and it helps you drink more and lose weight.

WHY THIS HELPS YOU LOSE WEIGHT

Fennel is known for calming your stomach and reducing gas and belly bloating. Naturally sweet, it needs no sugar. It is a comforting digestive tea, great for finishing a meal in a light way.

Approximate values, calculated from a standard nutrition table — they are a guide, not a medical prescription. The targets per profile assume light activity; anyone who moves more burns more and can adjust upward.
